

Academic Credit Through Washington County Community College

For WFR Certification Through Wilderness Medical Associates

Earning Credits

Washington County Community College (WCCC) and Wilderness Medical Associates (WMA) are partnering to provide credit to students who successfully complete the Wilderness First Responder (WFR) training and wish to obtain college credit.

4 credits will be awarded for the 70 hour WFR course for a dual enrollment fee of $200. Please check with the college or university you are attending to determine if these credits will be honored.

Student Requirements

Students must sign a registration form and a Disclosure and Agreement form, allowing grades for this course to be shared between WCCC and WMA. Students must also pay a $200 fee to WCCC.
