

STUDENT DISCLAIMER

Some procedures and techniques that are taught in WMA programs are based on substantially different clinical guidelines than those used in conventional urban EMS and first aid situations. The following Field Protocols will be reviewed in your course and students will be assessed on both their understanding and their mastery of the relevant skills. Please review the Field Protocols via the link below and then fill in the fillable fields to agree to the terms presented in this document.

■ Review Field Protocols

- I agree to use these modified procedures and techniques ONLY under the following conditions:
 - When my certification is valid and not expired.
 - When I am responsible for patient care in a wilderness or delayed/prolonged transport context.
 - When a patient 1) has been informed of both the procedure and its potential risks and 2) gives verbal consent to the treatment before it is initiated. If a patient is incapable of understanding or responding, then consent is deemed to be implied.
 - When I am using the Field Protocols as an employee/representative of a company, organization or agency, I will do so only as part of an approved policy and procedure for medical treatment that is provided by that entity.
